Avril et le monde truqué in French

1941. The world is different from that described by the usual History. Napoleon V reigned over France, where, as everywhere on the globe, for 70 years, scientists disappeared mysteriously, depriving humanity of capital inventions. This universe is stuck in an outdated technology, as if asleep in a knowledge of the nineteenth century. It is in this strange world that a young girl, Avril, sets off in search of her parents, missing scientists, with Darwin, her talking cat, and Julius, a young boy. This trio will have to face the dangers and mysteries of this facked World. Who has kidnapped scientists for decades? In what sinister purpose?.
